Sunday, November 20th, 2011
4:00 ~ 7:00 p.m.

The Cathedral Church of St. Paul
138 Tremont Street | Boston, MA 02111
(Red Line – Park Street / Orange Line – Downtown Crossing)

In November of 1998, the murders of local trans women Chanel Pickett and Rita Hester inspired a local candlelight vigil and the creation of Transgender Day of Remembrance, an international observance held on this day in dozens of countries and hundreds of cities. Today, we continue to lose our transgender siblings -- yet we also continue to be inspired by their memories, celebrate their lives, and move forward as individuals and as a community.

Please join us for speakers, a community speak out (open mic), a candlelight vigil on Boston Common, and a reception with hot drinks and good food.

While BTDOR is as always free of charge, we welcome donations to the Transgender Emergency Fund before, during and after the event:
