How to Get Financial Assistance for your Legal Name Change

MTPC provides up to $599 in financial assistance to trans and nonbinary people throughout New England* who cannot afford to pay the fees for their legal name and gender marker changes. These costs often exceed $400 including court fees and the fees associated with updating identity documents. A full breakdown of costs in Massachusetts is included on the back of this page.

To apply for financial assistance, follow these steps.

Step 1:

Find out if you are eligible for the MA Waiver of Court Fees and Costs.

- If you are eligible for the fee waiver, you will need to submit the Affidavit of Indigency to the Probate Court along with your “Petition to Change Name” form. Continue to Step 2 and submit a request for the costs associated with all of your other identity documents.
- If you are not eligible for the fee waiver, continue to Step 2 and submit a request for both the court fees and the costs associated with all of your other identity documents.

Step 2:

Fill out MTPC’s Financial Assistance Form. Assistance is available for all of the fees and costs listed on the back of this page
